
GULFI PACHINO CRU NEROBUFALEFFJ NERO D'AVOLA IGT 2003

Tasting Notes

Intense ruby red with violet hints, this wine presents the drinker with a complex, strong, nose full of red fruits and blackberry, with heady notes of sweet vanilla. The wine excites the palate with its balance, structure and fruity flavour. It is an elegant wine with a beautiful, long finish.

Winemaker Vinification Notes

Nero d'Avola, harvested in the second half of September, starts fermentation into red wine through a long maceration on its skins. After alcoholic fermentation, malolactic fermentation takes place before the wine is poured in small, 500L barrels, where it matures for about two years, before further ageing horizontally in-bottle for at least 1 year.
